KINGSTON'S FAIR OPENS SEPTEMBER 13. Big Things Planned in Every Depart-

The Kingston fair grounds, which for a third of a century have been the scene of the South County fair, will on September 13 again blossom into activity. Many changes, industrial, social, and scientific, have taken pace since the first county. social, and scientific have taken place since the first county fair was held at Kingston over theirty years ago, and naturally the extant and character of the fair itself has changed from year to year to keep pace with these developments. Still many of the original county fair features—the midway freeks, comic acrobats, peanut and lemonade stands, free shows, band concerts horse pages, livestock vageconcerts horse races, livestock rege-table and fancy work exhibits—all bringing to mind the boyish excite-ment, which they still inspire in the

To these, however, have been added other exhibitions and features, which, without destroying any of the original county fair character, have tended to rive this annual chrnival a serious coional value and dignity

The programmer prepared by the coard of directors for this year conso many valuable, entertaining interesting assouncements, that it is hardly possible to speak of any one of them as of prime importance. The daily randerlike performance which has been in past years one of the most popular features of the King-ton fair, will again be conducted by Adelaide Carillile who has won an enviable reputation in her chosen profession. These performances will take place as usual morning and aftermoon on the large-pratform in front of the grandstand.

Lovers of horseflesh, will come from far and near to whreas the tace, which are planned for the four Pair days. The track is in excellent condition, and the large numbers of we known racers which have entered as tire the sportsman of the keenes Putnam's Big Fair and Old Home Day At Wednesday everying's meeting of the finishing touches were perfect of the finishing touches were perfected. All horse entries were left in the hands of President J. O. Fox and already they are beginning to come In.

The track, which has the reputation of being a fast one, will be in fine shape and the "one big day" is destimed to be filled brimful of good sport for the lovers of good horseflesh.
The hall exhibits are put in charge The hall exhibits are put in charge of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wood, both enthusiastic Grangers, who are expecting fine displays of their best vegetables from the Patrons of the county. A very large flower display is assured and the good cooks for which Putnam is noted will vie with one another in an abundance of premium cake and other articles of cookery. The vaulefeatures are under the charge wills features are under the charge of Richard Gorman and as usual will be the heat details of which will no announced later. Special arrangements for water to sprinkle thoroughly both the track and the street leading to the grounds thereby avoiding all dust. Merchants are already making ready their exhibits. Music by the Ameran band of Putnam for outside and special music for the hall is to be organized. The "one big day" innovation ganized. The "one big day" innovation is evidently to be a grand success.

WILLIMANTIC FAIR.

Big Attractions Promised for Three Days Next Week.

The Willimantic fair next week Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday is looming up unusually big and the prospects for a genuine old fashioned event with all the attendant jollity and happenings to make a first class fair are daily becoming more appar

The entries have all been well filled and the exhibits will be unusually fine especially the fruit and vegetable ones as well as the wares of the merchants as well as the wares of the merchants about town. The exhibitors from out of town have applied for space in the Exhibition hall early this year and the hig building is fast being spoken for relative to choice spaces.

The various attractions booked for the annual fair are higger and better than ever and besides a good line of first class vaudeville each aftermone on the elevated singe across from the grain granulatand there will be a bal-loon accusion daily. An additional feature, healden th

An additional feature, headers the amateur athletic events on the first and third days will be agood wrestling matches on the same days. Bill Collins of Central Village and Jim Barnes of Springfield, Mass. will be the mat attraction on the first day.

Perhaps one of the most interesting traces between horses will be the local match trace heaven William Penn Ir. match race between William Penn, Jr., and Gold Bud, which is creating al-most as much conversation as the famous Donnyhronk-County Beater race of a little user a year ago.

The samuels stake and other horse races will be good attractions and some fine entries have been made which will be attracted by advertisement on Saturday and Monday.

Memories of the Bullhead,

Officials of the disheries bureau Washington may talk at length in their government pamphiets about the commercial value of the Amelurus nebulosus as food and never rouse a nembrance of his boyhood days in average country-bred American, when they descend to plain terms but when they descend to plain terms like builheads, horn pout and catfish, he can tell them all about their merits without bothering about tedious scientific data. Something was wrong with him when he was young if he never caught horn pout with a band line or pole and line, or with set lines or nets. An old mill pond or maddly was the best place, and they have creek was the best place, and they bit hast toward evening or after dark. There was not any better pen-fish to be had "Cathis and waffles" for which Philadelphia is famous, is a refined product he only learned to eat later since he bought his fish-instead of catching them.

Last year the government from its fish stations distributed 562,580 young catfish, and next year congress is to be asked to provide a new station for creek was the best place, and they be catish, and next year congress is to be asked to provide a new station for catish culture alone. The rivers and pends of the Pacific coast have been stocked from the east, and even Germany has begrowed a supply in return for the coerse carp it sent to

STORIES OF PLACES

Striking grave diggers, in the ceme tery of Pere la Chaise, recently called attention to the largest of Paris burial grounds, and one that is said to harbor more celebrities than any other cem-etery in the world. Few of the tombs however, possess much artistic mer-it. "Weight is their chief peculiarity." writes Augustus Hare, "and all the monuments look as if each family had tried to pile as much marble as pos-sible upon their deceased relatives." To foreign visitors the offerings on some of the graves constitute the most interesting feature. Children's graves are often strewn with fruit and sweets and those of adults with more substantial food. Bottles of wine are also seen and one bereaved parent leaves a potato salad on his son's tombstone

Vienna now has a "no hat" brigade, fashioned after the one which is thriving in London. "The hat," says one of the Vienna members, "is a superfluous article of man's wearing apparel. It deprives the head of needed air and sunshine, retards the growth and many instances kills the hair and is source of inconvenience and consider able expense. At no time does a mem-ber of our league appreciate his res-olution to go bareheaded so much as when he visits a theater or opera. The crush hat has gone, out of style, the cylinder takes up too much room and it is never improved by storage in and it is never improved by storage in Australia's statisticians have jus olished their matrimonial figures for ast year. The youngest bride was a sirl of 13, living in New South Wales, and the oldest was a spinster of 89. Twelve of the brides were only 14. fifty-four yere 15, 287 were 16, and after that they ran into the thousands. Nine brides under 21 married men over 50, the bridegroom in two cases being 80.

Did Not Know Own Child. Of unsigned paintings the Dusseldorfer Zeitung tells an amusing story which may interest picture buyers. Achenbach, the German artist, enjoyed a vogue about ten years ago. MUCH IN LITTLE An essential feature of the new Bel-gian monorail car is a pair of large wheels at the end of an axle to serve to maintain equillibrium when the car is starting, after which they are raised plode from contact with either a naked flame or with the arc of an electric current.

Consul A. J. Lespinasse of Frontera quotes the announcement that the con-cessionaries of the proposed Vera Cruz, Tabasco & Campeche railroad, having complied with the conditions, construction work will be promptly commenced.

In Africa the scissors imported from Sheffield were found to be rather dan-gerous weapons to place in the hands of natives, owing to their sharp points. The Soligen steel works sent a lot of round-pointed scissors out, which found favor, and now Germany has the whole osculation to be performed there, so that the concourse, doorways, platforms and gates be not congested by those who linger for the last goodby.
